CTS
Ministerial & Lay Leadership Institute

OUR seminary, OUR future

MINISTERIAL & LAY LEADERSHIP

INSTITUTE One hundred and fifty years ago, leaders of the Chicago Theological Seminary (CTS) identified a need to provide ongoing opportunities for CTS graduates to continue their education and fellowship. Originally named the Ministerial Institute, that tradition is alive and well today at CTS.

CTS strives towards the commitment of providing education for ordained clergy, lay leaders, and anyone working to transform the world into a place of greater justice and mercy. With this commitment and the hope of meeting current needs of religious leaders, the name of the Institute is now the CTS Ministerial and Lay Leadership Institute.

The theme of this year's Institute is Merging Mind and Soul with What Matters. In the past, the attendees of the event have included the alumnae of the Seminary, congregational pastors, religious leaders serving in non-profit or social justice settings, and lay persons.

PLEASE MAKE PLANS TO JOIN US!

WORKSHOP TRACKS

This year we are intentionally planning workshop topics that will benefit and provide resources for specific groups of leaders in the church. More specifically, we seek to provide three tracks of workshops—one track for lay leadership in churches, another track of workshops for ordained clergy, and a third track for those engaged in building healthy and strong communities. Participants are welcome to register for any of the three tracks.
