

CHURCHES NEED MORE PEOPLE LIKE CTS PEOPLE

Leaders for the Next.

Rev. Jennifer Sanders, MDiv 2017

After working as an occupation therapist, Jennifer was called to church ministry. However, her family and community were in Birmingham, Alabama. Fortunately, she was able to attend CTS through our online degree program. Today, she is the pastor of an inclusive faith community that works for justice for all people.

Donors like you and your congregation have made it possible for Jennifer to attend seminary and answer her call to ministry. Chances are, someone in your congregation has a calling too. So, every year, CTS raises money to make seminary education more affordable and accessible to all.

Learn more at: ctschicago.edu/ways-to-give

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

ctschicago.edu

CHURCHES NEED MORE PEOPLE LIKE CTS PEOPLE

Leaders for the Next.

Rev. Jennifer Sanders, MDiv 2017

After working as an occupation therapist, Jennifer was called to church ministry. However, her family and community were in Birmingham, Alabama. Fortunately, she was able to attend CTS through our online degree program. Today, she is the pastor of an inclusive faith community that works for justice for all people.

Donors like you and your congregation have made it possible for Jennifer to attend seminary and answer her call to ministry. Chances are, someone in your congregation has a calling too. So, every year, CTS raises money to make seminary education more affordable and accessible to all.

Learn more at: ctschicago.edu/ways-to-give

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

ctschicago.edu

CHURCHES NEED MORE PEOPLE LIKE CTS PEOPLE

Leaders for the Next.

Joey Rodil, CTS Student

Raised in a Filipino immigrant community, Joey came to seminary seeking a personal understanding of faith and theology. He chose CTS because of the racial and theological diversity, as well as its serious commitments to social justice. Joey is passionate about creating and sustaining new church programs which educate and provide opportunities for justice-seeking and faith formation.

Donors like you and your congregation have made it possible for Joey to attend seminary and answer his call to ministry. Chances are, someone in your congregation has a calling too. So, every year, CTS raises money to make seminary education more affordable and accessible to all.

Learn more at: ctschicago.edu/ways-to-give

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

ctschicago.edu

CHURCHES NEED MORE PEOPLE LIKE CTS PEOPLE

Leaders for the Next.

Joey Rodil, CTS Student

Raised in a Filipino immigrant community, Joey came to seminary seeking a personal understanding of faith and theology. He chose CTS because of the racial and theological diversity, as well as its serious commitments to social justice. Joey is passionate about creating and sustaining new church programs which educate and provide opportunities for justice-seeking and faith formation.

Donors like you and your congregation have made it possible for Joey to attend seminary and answer his call to ministry. Chances are, someone in your congregation has a calling too. So, every year, CTS raises money to make seminary education more affordable and accessible to all.

Learn more at: ctschicago.edu/ways-to-give

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

ctschicago.edu

CHURCHES NEED MORE PEOPLE LIKE CTS PEOPLE

Leaders for the Next.

Erica Weathers, CTS Student

Erica Weather explores faith through liturgical dance! CTS offers opportunities for her to explore and create interactive worship experiences for all people. And with a mixture of online and in-person courses, Erica is able to be a student, an ordained deacon in her home church, and most importantly loving wife and mother of two very athletic children Jonah and Savanah.

Donors like you and your congregation have made it possible for Erica to attend seminary and answer her call to ministry. Chances are, someone in your congregation has a calling too. So, every year, CTS raises money to make seminary education more affordable and accessible to all.

Learn more at: ctschicago.edu/ways-to-give

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

ctschicago.edu

CHURCHES NEED MORE PEOPLE LIKE CTS PEOPLE

Leaders for the Next.

Erica Weathers, CTS Student

Erica Weather explores faith through liturgical dance! CTS offers opportunities for her to explore and create interactive worship experiences for all people. And with a mixture of online and in-person courses, Erica is able to be a student, an ordained deacon in her home church, and most importantly loving wife and mother of two very athletic children Jonah and Savanah.

Donors like you and your congregation have made it possible for Erica to attend seminary and answer her call to ministry. Chances are, someone in your congregation has a calling too. So, every year, CTS raises money to make seminary education more affordable and accessible to all.

Learn more at: ctschicago.edu/ways-to-give

CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

ctschicago.edu

