MDiv Concentrations, Certificate Program, and Area Requirements
We offer Certificates and MDiv concentrations in Chaplaincy, Interreligious Engagement, LGBTQ+ Studies, Study of Black Faith and Life, Islamic Chaplaincy, and Muslim Studies—as well as a Certificate in Ministry Preparation. We also have an MDiv area requirement in Global Perspectives, and a requirement to take a course that focuses on a tradition other than your own (TOTYO). If a course satisfies any of these, it is indicated in bold after the course description.

- The TOTYO appellation indicates that it is a deep study of that tradition. It applies to you only if the course is not your primary tradition.
- Courses for a Ministry Preparation Certificate are not indicated; students should work out a plan with the Registrar.
- Courses that satisfy the MDiv area requirements for Worship/Preaching and Ministry are not indicated; you should be able to tell by course title/description.
- Additional Bayan courses (not yet listed) satisfy Islamic Chaplaincy and Muslims Studies concentrations.
- Please direct questions to the Registrar.
Doctoral Students, please note:
In consultation with course instructors and the Registrar, you may request that regularly-scheduled masters-level courses be modified for doctoral instruction. If approved, doctoral-level course numbers and syllabi will be provided.

Cross-Registration in the Association of Chicago Theological Schools (ACTS)
Students of any of the ACTS schools may take courses from any of the other member schools with no added charge. Registration for all courses, no matter which school, takes place in the school where the student is enrolled. Students may register by completing a cross-registration form. Each school in ACTS reserves the right to limit enrollment in certain courses for pedagogical reasons and to set its own policies for the admission of students from other schools to such courses. A student who cross-registers is subject to the policy for incompletes at the school into which she/he cross-registers. The ACTS catalog can be found at http://actschicago.org/ and the registration form can be found on MyCTS under Registrar.

RH 301
Interpreting the Hebrew Bible
Ken Stone
An introduction for beginning students to the problems of the historical and theological interpretation of the Hebrew Scriptures. Special attention given to Pentateuch and narrative history (Joshua-2 Kings).
Offered: F22o (Higashi), Sp23c, Sp23o, F23o, Sp24o, F24c, F24o, Sp25o

RH 302
Interpreting the Hebrew Bible II
Rachel Mikva
An exploration of historical, literary and theological interpretations of the prophetic, short story, and wisdom texts of the Hebrew Bible—with a taste of Apocrypha. We will utilize a range of classical and contemporary lenses, from rabbinic midrash to liberation theology and queer theory. Assignments emphasize interpretation and practical application.
Prerequisite: RH 301
Offered: F23c, F23s, F23o, Su25o

RH 321
Interpreting the Gospels
Stephanie Crowder or Affiliates (Teresa Hornsby, Monya Stubbs)
This course serves as a graduate level introduction to the contemporary interpretation of the Gospels in the New Testament and related documents. It will address the Greco-Roman and Jewish milieu of the Gospels, the methodological development of the Gospel scholarship, and the distinctiveness of each Gospel with regard to literary style, Christology, discipleship, and community concerns. It will also highlight the importance of ethical interpretation of the Gospels that will promote justice and mercy in today's world.
Offered: F22c, F22o, Sp23o, F23o Sp24o, F24c, F24o, Sp25o
RH 325
Interpreting the Epistles
Stephanie Crowder or Affiliates (Teresa Hornsby, Monya Stubbs)
Offers an introduction to both the Pauline and non-Pauline corpus. In addition to reading selected letters in light of ancient epistolography and rhetorical practices, we will also pay attention to the historical situations of these letters.
Prerequisite: RH 321
Offered: Sp23c, Sp23o, Sp24o, Sp25c, Sp25o

RH 344
History of Christian Thought
José Morales or Bo Myung Seo
This course will survey the significant theologians and movements from the early Christian Church through the Reformation, focusing primarily on the Western Church.
Fulfills: TOTYO
Offered: F22o, Sp22c, F23o, Sp24o, F24o, Sp25c

RH 402
Jewish Thought: Traditionally Rooted, Radically Engaged
Rachel Mikva
An overview of Jewish thought and practice utilizing works of Jewish literature from the rabbinic period to modernity. Texts include Talmud, Midrash, medieval philosophy, commentary, codes, kabbalah, Heschel, Buber. We explore the ideas as they illuminate the worlds of Judaism and beyond, in their historical context and our own day.
Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement, TOTYO
Offered: Su23o
RH 405
Very Different Visions: Jewish and Christian Biblical Interpretation
Rachel Mikva
How do Jewish and Christian exegetes read such different notions of God and humanity out of the same texts of Hebrew Bible? We explore ideas about creation, sin, sex, messiah, body/soul, with attention to multiple ways in which they have been interpreted within Judaism and Christianity. We also reflect on their implications for contemporary Jewish-Christian discourse.

Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement
Offered: Su22o (Schaser), F24c, F24s

RH 409
Study Tour to Israel and Palestine
Rachel Mikva and José Morales
History pours out of every rock, and hopes for the future pour out of every face. This 2-week journey explores the biblical heritage, vitality of the modern State of Israel, and challenges in pursuing justice and peace for Palestinians and Israelis. We meet partners in Jewish and Palestinian communities working on gender and sexuality, coexistence, sustainability, interreligious engagement. Substantial subsidies for CTS students will be available. Requires preparatory work in preceding semester.

Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement, Global Perspectives
Offered: M23h (online prep in Spring)

RH 413
Buddhist Studies
JoAnne Terrell
Utilizing the lens of thoughtful inquiry, the course will examine the life of Gautama Buddha, the historical emergence and spread of Buddhism, and the components of his Eight-Fold Path.

Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement, TOTYO
Offered: Sp23
RH 416
Dangerous Religious Ideas
Rachel Mikva
They are all dangerous—yet religious ideas unfold through our world as a source of blessing as well. We examine scripture and history to explore how the constructive and destructive elements are bound together, lifting up the essential role of self-critical faith and the particular challenges of religion in the public square.
Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement, Muslim Studies
Offered: Su24o

RH 419
Creation Themes in the Hebrew Bible
Ken Stone
This course will investigate creation themes as they appear across a wide selection of texts in the Hebrew Bible, in the ancient Near East, and in contemporary biblical scholarship. It also asks about the potential relevance of those themes for contemporary theology, ethics, ministry, and cultural criticism. Optional monthly Zoom sessions will take place during the term, primarily on Saturdays.
Offered: Sp25o

RH 420
Suffering, Lament & Human Existence in the Hebrew Bible
Ken Stone
This course takes a dialogical, theological, and pastoral approach to selected texts from the Hebrew Bible, which articulate, respond to, and/or interpret experiences of suffering, pain, and grief, and perceived challenges to the orderliness of human existence. Texts we address include selected Psalms and the books of Lamentations, Job, and Qohelet (Ecclesiastes). Reflection on implications for ministry will play a significant role in the course, particularly in dialogue with several secondary texts on the biblical Lament tradition and grief. Optional, monthly Zoom sessions will take place during the term, primarily on Saturdays.
Fulfills: Chaplaincy
Offered: F23o
RH 421
Living, Breathing Judaisms
Rachel Mikva
What we need to know about Jews and Judaism, and what we learn about ourselves in the process. The course explores ethics, Sabbath and festival observance, life cycles, family, prayer, community, conflict and change in diverse Jewish contexts.
Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement, TOTYO
Offered: Su25f

RH 451/651
Paths of Liberation in the Bhagavad Gita
Cynthia Stewart
The Bhagavad Gita, or Song of the Lord, is the most translated scripture to arise out of the vast Hindu canon. The Gita is set within a larger epic, the Mahabharata, which places it in the midst of a war, and yet Gandhi felt that it taught him renunciation and ahimsa, or nonviolence. In this course we will look at the Gita’s historical background, the meaning of enlightenment and the different paths toward it taught in the Gita.
Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement, TOTYO
Offered: F22o

RH 465
Womanist Biblical Interpretation
Stephanie Buckhanon Crowder
This course examines the trajectory of U.S.-black women’s biblical interpretation from the nineteenth century to the present, by both non-specialists and specialists. Learners will discuss major issues, themes, continuities and discontinuities in black women’s hermeneutical approaches. They will also examine the interstructured oppressions of gender, class, race and sexuality that inform black feminist and womanist scholars’ analytical approach to reading biblical texts.
Fulfills: SBFL
Offered: Sp24o
RH 470
Parables in the Gospel of Luke
Stephanie Buckhanon Crowder
This intermediate level course will introduce students to the socio-historical, cultural, and political setting of the Gospel of Luke. By engaging selected parables, this study seeks to assist participants in discovering how these stories reflect the first century context. Students will be challenged to discern possible theological meaning(s) emanating from the text. This examination will be used to explore current-day relevance and points of personal praxis.
Prerequisite: RH321
Offered: M24c

RH 485
Religion in North America
JoAnne Terrell or Scott Haldeman
This course will trace the history and development of religion in the United States from the 17th to 21st centuries and explore the many ways that it responded to as well as influenced North American culture and identity. Rather than depart from the more traditional meta-narrative of the Anglo-Saxon Protestant majority, it will use the lenses of different religious traditions to view the diversity of our religious landscape while also critically assessing the common heritage that is shared.
Offered: F22o, F23c, F23o, F24o

RH 498
LGBTQ Issues and Biblical Interpretation
Teresa Hornsby
This course explores contemporary research on LGBTQ issues and biblical interpretation and considers implications of that research for religious communities and the wider society. Attention is also given to 'queer readings' of the Bible.
Fulfills: LGBTQ+
Offered: F22o
RH 601
Contemporary Hermeneutical Strategies
Stephanie Buckhanon Crowder
Advanced seminar exploring a range of emerging hermeneutical strategies (literary, social-scientific, liberationist, feminist, Afro-centrist, womanist, deconstructive, psychoanalytic) with attention to impact of global and post-Holocaust consciousness.
PhD required course.
Offered: Sp23c, F24c
TEC – Theology, Ethics, and Culture

TEC 307
Systematic Theology
JoAnne Terrell
The course examines the history of Christian theological thinking, the nature of doctrine, and the development of Christian movements and their relationship to the social, political, spiritual contexts in which they emerged, as well as in reaction to scientific innovations of the times.
Offered: Sp23o, Sp24c, Sp24o, Sp25o (Terrell/Morales)

TEB 321
Islamic Ethics
Ozgur Koca
This course is intended to be an introduction to the general ethical theories that have been constructed by Muslim scholars over the centuries. To this end, we will have a number of readings from Muslim mystics, philosophers, and theologians to familiarize ourselves with the major trends, texts, and concerns of Islamic ethics. We will explore the interplay between the domains of theology, law, and ethics. We will also consider some avenues through which Islamic ethics can be read in comparison with other religious traditions.
Fulfills: TOTYO
Offered: TBA

TEC 321
Christian Ethics
Christophe Ringer or JoAnne Terrell
Course examines moral codes, divine commandments and legal proscriptions that influence the development of Christianity, and how the historical expressions of these systems in various communions have led to competing moral theories in Christian thought.
Prerequisite: RH 344
Offered: Sp23o, Su23o, Sp24c, Sp24o, Sp25o, Su25o
TEC 322/622
Christianity and Environmental Justice: Theory, Design, Practice
Heesung Hwang
What role might Christian theologies, faith communities, and (inter)religious activism play in addressing our current ecological crises? This class explores questions of ecological ethics in dialogue with practices and texts from Christian traditions. We will critically read texts by socio-ecological-religious thinkers responding to environmental issues and consider implications for personal commitments and public goals.
Offered: Sp22o

TEC 355
Living into our Commitments
Rachel Mikva or Heesung Hwang
Using the CTS “Statement of Commitments” as the basis for study, we critically examine the ways in which injustice diminishes our world, and explore strategies for personal and social transformation. The CTS community is also a living laboratory, enabling us to discuss what it means to try to live into these commitments together, how to make space for different visions of justice, and what to do when we fall short. Participation in the face-to-face components is strongly encouraged. Note: Su23 will include flex option to participate in Parliament of the World's Religions convening in Chicago.
Offered: F22o, Su23f, Su24f, F24f

TEC 390
Introduction to the Study of Black Faith and Life
Christophe Ringer
This course will explore the critical themes, disciplines and thinkers important to the study of Black faith and Black life. The discussion will be afrocentric in focus, interreligious and socially comprehensive in scope.
SBFL Concentration required course.
Offered: Su24o
TEC 363/663
Introduction to LGBTQIA+ Religious Studies
Scott Haldeman
Participants explore historical trajectories of studies by and about queer adherents to various religious traditions, while focusing on questions of method—past, present and future.
LGBTQ Concentration required course.
Offered: Sp24o

TEC 395
Introduction to Interreligious Engagement
Rachel Mikva
What does it mean to be a religious leader in a multifaith society? This course provides essential tools and perspectives including theological and philosophical foundations for pluralism, conflict transformation, and leadership strategies for interreligious engagement. We analyze the various ways we meet across religious difference, planned and unplanned, and explore their impact on our world.
Interreligious Engagement Concentration required course
Offered: F23f

TEC 400
Constructive Theology
Christophe Ringer
This course is designed to facilitate the comprehensive construction and communication of each student's own positions on key Christian doctrinal loci. The course will focus on the following themes: theological method, God, Jesus, sin and evil, ministry and church.
Prerequisites: Courses in history, sacred texts, pastoral care; LM 400 strongly recommended
Offered: Sp23c, Sp23o, Sp24o, Su24o, Sp25c, Sp25o

TEC 402
Christology
Bo Myung Seo
This course will examine how Christ has been understood theologically and doctrinally over the centuries. The course will try to provide a comprehensive review of the history of Christology as well as providing contemporary theological options in thinking about Christology.
Offered: F22o

TEC 411
Howard Thurman and the Search for Common Ground
Christophe Ringer
Howard Thurman is known as a mystic, poet, prophet, preacher, pastor, philosopher, and theologian. This course will critically examine Howard Thurman’s account of religious experience and its ethical significance for transformation of persons and society. In particular, close attention will be paid to Thurman’s interpretation of Jim Crow segregation, the religion of Jesus, spiritual disciplines, and the nature of the self. Special attention will be paid to Thurman’s relationship with the Black Church, inter-religious engagement, philosophical traditions and the role of religion in American public life.
Fulfills: SBFL
Offered: Su23o

TEC 412/612
Latinx Studies and Religion: Questions, Methods, and Issues
José Morales
In ¿Existe una filosofía de nuestra América?, Peruvian philosopher Augusto Salazar Bondy asks what defines Latin American philosophy. His answer is a thematic one: Latin American philosophy is haunted by the unanswered question of identity. What do we mean by “Latin” American, “Caribbean,” “Hispanic”, “Latinx”? This perennial questioning and negotiating of identity (or identities) serves as the starting point to explore theological/jurisprudential/religious themes phenomena, and expressions in nuestra América.
Fulfills: Global Perspectives
Offered: Sp24o
TEC 413
Theologies of the Body
JoAnne Terrell
How has Christianity come to be associated with the denigration of the body? What are resources in tradition for a theological re-appropriation and celebration of the body?
Fulfills: Chaplaincy
Offered: J24c

TEC 414
Theology of Art
Bo Myung Seo
This course examines the ideas of the aesthetic and art in the history of Christian thought. After a historical survey, some contemporary reflections on art will also be examined.
Offered: Sp24o

TEC 416/616
Latin American Liberation Theologies
José Morales
This course in intellectual history and constructive theology looks back to engage the philosophical and theological wisdom that initially sourced Latin American liberation theology [“LALT”], tapping into its prophetically incisive and intellectually rigorous roots. And the course looks ahead to evaluate LALT’s contemporary relevance and to assess valid criticisms posed to LALT: feminism criticizing machismo; ecology expanding anthropocentric soteriologies; Afro-Latinx theology denouncing Latinx anti-blackness; and narrative theology’s existential sense as a counter to “disembodied” structural analyses.
Fulfills: Global Perspectives
Offered: Sp23o
TEC 417
Theology and Photography
Bo Myung Seo
This course examines ideas of theology and art. After a brief historical survey of how theology related itself to art and aesthetics, the course will examine photography in terms of its history and theory and how it can contribute to theological reflection and practice of faith.
Offered: J25c

TEC 427/627
Comparative Theology: Questions, Methods, and Issues
José Morales
Comparative theology is a newer subfield within the broader field of theology. Thus, its aims and agenda as a subfield often are misunderstood. As John Thatamanil (Circling the Elephant) explicates, comparative theology is not one tradition thinking about (or worst yet, against) the other’s tradition. Rather, this subfield calls the theologian, rooted in their particular tradition, to think with another tradition, allowing one’s faith to be read and transformed by the faith of the other. This course explores some of the questions, methods, and issues in comparative theology. Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement
Offered: M24o

TEC 428/628
Philosophies of Race and Theology
José Morales
Philosophies of race/ethnicity and theological anthropology consider similar questions (albeit with different assumptions and aims), namely, human identity, human constitution, and human experiencing in our blessed yet battered world. Yet, these distinct modes of inquiry rarely intersect. This course brings together, in a mutually critical way, theological constructions on humanity and philosophical discourses on race and ethnicity. Fulfills: SBFL
Offered: Sp23c, Sp23s
TEC 444/644
Queer Eco-Spiritualities
Ken Stone
This experimental course explores possibilities for contemporary queer eco-spiritualities by examining and integrating insights from queer theologies, queer ecological theories emerging beyond religious or theological contexts, queer, intersectional, and interreligious eco-theologies, and various approaches to spirituality and to ecological ministry and activism.

Justice at the Intersections: A Study Tour Exploring Race, Gender, and Religion in the South
Rachel Mikva
This study tour examines the resurgence of white nationalism and Christian supremacy in American public life through the lens of intersectionality. State-sanctioned racialized violence is intimately woven into recent attacks on immigrants and religious minorities, as well as police violence and the legislative assault on reproductive rights. We examine these issues by engaging the role of religion within historical and contemporary struggles for social justice in the South—even as the lessons are instructive for the whole of the nation. From the removal of native populations to the painful history of lynching and other practices of terror, we journey to exceptional sites and speak with transformative leaders working to fashion a more just, humane future. Additional costs apply.

The Weaponization of Religious Liberty and How to Fight Back
Jay Michaelson
Religious liberty was once understood to be a shield against discrimination, but in the last ten years, it has become a sword used to justify it. From limiting abortion rights to allowing discrimination against gay people, from avoiding Covid rules to the January 6 insurrection, “religious liberty” has become a potent weapon in the culture wars. This course traces this history and explores how faith leaders can fight back against it.

Offered: F22c, F22s, F24c, F24s
LM 395
Introduction to Chaplaincy Studies
Zachary Moon
This course introduces the field of chaplaincy studies. Chaplains are rooted and accountable to their religious tradition, but they serve people and communities who may have different religious backgrounds or have no religious affiliation. How does one develop a ministry resilient in the face of pluralistic religious demands, complex human suffering, and institutional cultures that may conflict with human flourishing? This course will engage five contexts of chaplaincy ministry including hospital, military, prison, campus, and hospice.
Chaplaincy Concentration requirement. Prerequisite: LM 331/LM 332.
Offered: F22o F23f, Su24f, Su25f

LM 400
Leadership and Ministry in Context
Staff
Course assists the student in experiencing and initiating a style of pastoral and theological reflection and provides perspective on the nature, history, and practice of religious leadership in congregational, faith-based community non-profit, and chaplaincy settings. This year-long three credit hour course is designed to be taken concurrently with a field education placement.
Prerequisites: Courses in history, pastoral care, and at least 1 additional LM course; TEC 355 strongly recommended
Offered online every fall-spring

LM 412
Introduction to Christian Worship
Scott Haldeman
This course explores the history, theology, and practice of Christian worship with special focus on the skills and values required of those who lead. In other words, we engage in debates about what worship is, what it means, and how it should be done. But we also try the role on—planning and performing various worship elements along the way. In the final paper, students articulate their own theology of worship and what it means for how they will preside in the future.
Offered: F22o, F23o, Sp25o
LM 415/615
Ritual Studies
Scott Haldeman
Human beings use ritual to construct themselves as individuals and as social groups. In this course, we will discuss, and experiment with, the work of theorists of ritual to help us understand how this happens. We will learn and practice methods of ritual criticism, which help us to interpret with more clarity and depth the ritual traditions in which we participate. We will explore how rituals change and how rituals are created to meet newly articulated human needs.
Offered: Sp22o, Sp25o

LM 416
Leading Christian Worship: A Practicum in Presiding
Scott Haldeman
This course is a practicum in which we explore skills and concepts required to lead worship, such as: knowledge of the forms of various services and the genres of prayer within them, building one’s voice, attending to gesture and posture, and developing a strong and sensitive pastoral presence.
Offered: F23c

LM 417
Worship in world religions: an experiential comparative immersion
Scott Haldeman
In this course, we explore the landscape of American religious pluralism through ritual practices. We seek to understand what those who follow paths different from us “do” and “what it may mean”—for them, but also for us. We will read and talk about Judaism, Buddhism, Hinduism, the Bahá’í faith, and Islam. But even more we will go to representative communities of these traditions to join them in worship—to experience the where, when, why and how of their practices—to not only increase our knowledge of other faiths but also to better understand our own practices and how they must be changed to lead us from what all too often resembles triumphalism, disdain, and violent conflict, and towards mutual respect, honor, and peaceful relations.
Fulfills: Interreligious Engagement
Offered: Su25f
FAITH AND FILM: RELIGIOUS EDUCATION THROUGH THE MOVIES
Heesung Hwang
Religion is a complex and vibrant phenomenon that influences every aspect of society and culture. This course focuses on the interactions between religion and popular culture. Specifically, it asks: how do commercial filmmakers (collectively called “Hollywood” or “Netflix”) understand religion? How does Hollywood call on religion to articulate various social, aesthetic, and economic concerns? Which social and cultural changes have made their impact on the movies, or vice versa? What can we, the faith communities, do to interpret and influence the culture around us?
Offered: Sp23s

LGBTQ+ LEARNING & DEVELOPMENTAL THEORIES
Heesung Hwang
This course is designed to provide theological and educational frameworks for considering the needs and strengths of the diverse population of LGBTQ+ students and allies. In this course, participants trace sociological, psychological, and religious discourses of the LGBTQ+ identity development and formation; and develop teaching strategies and best practices for facilitating the inclusion and equity of LGBTQ+ students.
Fulfills: LGBTQ+
Offered: Sp23o

PREACHING THE HEADLINES
Reggie Williams
This course studies local, national, and global news events to stimulate the process, design, and practice of dynamic preaching. Through lectures, discussions, and an in-class lab, students will become more effective communicators behind and beyond church pulpits!
Offered: Sp23s, Sp24s, Sp25s
LM 428
Liturgies in Chaplaincy Contexts
Zachary Moon
The contexts of chaplaincy ministries are distinct in many ways from the ministries in congregations; however, there are a number situations in chaplaincy ministries that necessitate liturgical expertise including facilitating spiritual including the pluralistic character of ministries in those contexts, and equip students with liturgical competencies for faithful and effective service. Fulfills: Chaplaincy
Offered: Su24h

LM 437
Moral Injury and Recovery
Zachary Moon
This course investigates the field of moral injury. Moral injury occurs when intense levels of moral emotions including guilt, shame, disgust, and/or contempt, overwhelm normal human functioning and generate the same symptoms as Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder. Moral injury has been linked to military service and combat traumas and may occur in many other contexts. This course will analyze the theoretical work concerning moral injury and the practical application of providing support for recovery.
Prerequisite: LM 331 or LM 332. Fulfills: Chaplaincy
Offered: Su25f

LM 474
Feminist, Womanist, and Queer Ritualizing
Scott Haldeman
This course involves review of the central principles of feminist, womanist, and queer theologies and ritual theories, in turn. At each turning, students both in small groups and individually create rites, in an experimental manner, to embody these values and enact these hopes. A final paper (or, project) provides opportunity for students to explore one or more of these movements in-depth, imagining and creating liberative ritual spaces.
Fulfills: LGBTQ+, SBFL
Offered: Sp23o
LM 481
Marriage: Rites and Wrongs
Scott Haldeman
In this course, participants try to get below and behind the marriage debates that rage in both the churches and the wider society to explore what marriage is--in theological, moral and legal perspective--and what it might be; and what the wedding is and what it might be.
Fulfills: LGBTQ+
Offered: Sp23o

LMB 334
Care and Counseling for Bereavement
Najah Bazzy or Bayan Staff
This course involves study of the dynamics of grief and mourning and of appropriate spiritual care and counseling with the bereaved in the context of religious communities, chaplaincy, and spiritually integrative counseling. The course references Islamic theological and spiritual paradigms for dealing with loss and suffering, and welcomes perspectives reflecting other faith traditions. Much of the course focuses on reflecting on one’s core strengths, personal traits, and communication styles, which pertain to cultivating leadership skills and effective chaplaincy/care practices. The course will feature discussions, role play, and review of case studies.
Fulfills: Islamic Chaplaincy
Offered: W23o, S24h
LMB 455
Self-Development and Self-Care
Kameelah Rashad or Bayan Staff
This course will examine the theory, practice, and importance of self-care and self-development while being a spiritual leader, which may be one of the most neglected parts of the profession or service. This course cultivates practices for self-assessment, self-renewal and development, and self-care. Deepening of self-awareness is a critical component for effective work as clergy/chaplains/religious leaders. It will also explore the ways in which leaders must engage in a process of critical and radical self-reflection in order to recognize one's strengths and limitations when it comes to community engagement and healing. Participants will engage with tools to look at their lives with a stronger sense of inner peace, confidence, and positivity. Students will learn how to survive and heal from traumatic events, train themselves to keep the multiple circles of wellness fulfilled, have better control of their emotions and facilitate better interpersonal relationships with friends, families, and those that they lead. Additionally, this course will teach students how to overcome their fears and lead their communities through an authentic lens.
Offered: F22h

LMB 456
Counseling Muslim Youth
Omar Mahmood or Bayan Staff
This course introduces students to child and adolescent mental health concepts focusing on developmental psychology, clinical symptoms, evaluation, and treatment issues. The course provides instruction in conducting diagnostic interviews and basic therapeutic techniques. The course also provides guided discussion of general approaches to mental health treatment, specifically in the context of Muslim youth, and including some issues relevant to Muslims in emerging adulthood and older stages of life.
Fulfills: Islamic Chaplaincy, Muslim Studies
Offered: Su23h
LMB 484
Theories and Practices of Spiritual Care
Tahara Akmal or Bayan Staff
In this course, we consider the interrelationship of spirituality with care and counseling, focusing on how caregivers can respond to needs, traumas, and growth characterized as spiritual. We will analyze past and current theories of counseling and care, integrate Islamic religious concepts into care and counseling best practices, and evaluate case studies and scenarios in which spiritual care is a prominent feature. Fulfills: Islamic Chaplaincy
Offered: Su22h

LM 414 Worship and Transformative Art (Haldeman)
In this class, we will engage the arts and individual artists in order to equip ourselves to identify those images and gestures—whether familiar or newly forged—that have the potential to transform individuals and communities toward greater justice and mercy.

LM 438 Pastoral Care with Veterans and Military Families (Moon)
This course examines the challenges and opportunities of providing pastoral care with veterans and military families, focusing on issues including warrior identity, deployment and combat experience, impact on families, post-deployment reintegration, and the role of congregations. This constructive, contextual course is at the intersection of religious traditions, military culture, clinical disciplines and personal experience.

Chaplaincy Concentration.

RH 417 Loss and Healing in Hebrew Bible and Jewish Literature (Mikva)
An exploration of communal and individual loss, along with the rhetorical and theological strategies for coping, for understanding, for healing – with texts from antiquity to contemporary fiction and non-fiction. Biblical passages for study include Lamentations, Job, Psalms and Ruth – deepened by midrashic, medieval and modern interpretation. There will be opportunities to address the subject personally, academically and professionally, with some flexibility based on your objectives.

TEC 424 Theological Method (Seo)
This course will examine various schools of thought in theology in terms of their distinct approaches to how theology is to be done. While the course will begin with a historical examination of methods in theology, more of its time will be spent examining modern and contemporary options in theological method.

TEC 465 Trauma and Theology (Moon)
This course will explore multiple conceptual frameworks of trauma with an emphasis on theological reflection and constructing contextual theologies. This course is designed as a seminar in which students will be active readers and contributors to the learning community. Students will theologically engage and integrate learning from cognate clinical fields of trauma theory, therapeutic practice, and literature.

Chaplaincy Concentration elective.
TEC 499 Introduction to Philosophy of Religion (Seo)
The course will examine the basic issues and problems in religion from the philosophical perspective. They include such issues as Religious Knowledge and Experience, God, Evil, Suffering, and Immortality.

TEC 507 Theology in America: Ralph Waldo Emerson and Beyond (Seo)
This course will read Emerson’s major essays and examine them theologically and philosophically. His intellectually legacy will be discussed through the writings of Friedrich Nietzsche, Stanley Cavell, Cornel West, etc.

TEC 533: Women’s Voices: Ruether, Lorde, Plaskow, Wadud (Mikva)
An in-depth study of four prominent feminist voices: Christian, Jewish, Muslim and perhaps spiritual—but-not-religious. With diverse and evolving relationships to their own religious traditions, these women lay lasting foundations for womanist/feminist perspectives on culture, power, ethics and theology. Students will examine the commonalities and distinctiveness of feminist thought and activism within spiritual identity through the work of these women and those who follow.

Addendum to Catalog Regarding VA Benefits
Compliance with 38 USC 3679(e)
VA Pending Payment Compliance

Beginning August 1, 2019, and despite any policy to the contrary, the educational institution named at the bottom of this form will not take any of the four following actions toward any student using U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Post 9/11 G.I. Bill® (Ch. 33) or Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (Ch. 31) benefits, while their payment from the United States Department of Veterans Affairs is pending to the educational institution:

• Prevent their enrollment;
• Assess a late penalty fee to;
• Require they secure alternative or additional funding;
• Deny their access to any resources (access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities) available to other students who have satisfied their tuition and fee bills to the institution.

However, to qualify for this provision, such students may be required to:

• Produce the VA’s Certificate of Eligibility by the first day of class;
• Provide written request to be certified.
• Provide additional information needed to properly certify the enrollment as described in other institutional policies (see our VA School Certifying Official for all requirements).

GI Bill® is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). More information about education benefits offered by VA is available at the official U.S. government Web site at https://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill.
